Citing Sources

Directions: Whenever you quote or summarize someone else’s work, you are required to cite its source. Citing a source gives credit to the original author. Below are models of how to cite different types of sources. Note: If you write your text by hand, underline italicized words.

Citing a book:

Citing a magazine article:

Citing a newspaper article:

Citing an Internet website: